

Brain Busters Quiz - Answer Sheet

What plan for spending money sounds like 'fudge it'?

What does New Zealand's currency NZD stand for?

As well as being a board game, what word describes the possibility that an investment might drop in value?

Is a lump-sum payment a large single payment or multiple payments broken up into installments?

What is a word beginning with 'W' that describes getting paid an hourly rate?

Is the remaining money after paying all expenses called a surplus or a surplextra?

People's spending is generally split into wants and what other category beginning with 'N'?

Rhyming with sixpence, buying movie tickets is what type of payment?

Noelle has to decide whether to use her last $5 to buy either toilet rolls or lollies; are the lollies a need or a want?

Rhyming with steed, what describes something essential for living?

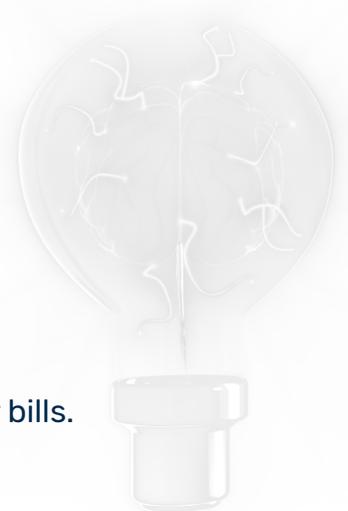

Is the money used for spending a saveiture or an expenditure?

If you are not spending money you are doing what with it?

Is purchasing the Percy Jackson book series a need or a want?

What is the name given to the extra money you need to find to pay your bills.

How many years is 36 months interest free?

Brain Busters Quiz - Answer Sheet

If Ellie was planning her expected incomes and expenses for the week, what would she be doing?

Budgeting

Spending

Earning

What role does a consumer have in the market for goods and services?

Uses the good or service

Produces the good or service

Sells the good or service

Which of these is an example of an expense?

Buying new soccer boots

Taking out a loan

Getting paid from work

The money that you have leftover after paying your bills and expenses is called what?

The surplus

The deficit

The balance

Living costs such as rent, food and clothes are considered examples of what type of spending?

Needs

Wants

Investments

